May 2024

A Minnesota icon, Twins organist Sue Nelson is a frequent guest at RosePointe. Sue has over 25 years experience with playing for the Twins. It's an unwritten rule that the Twins can't play ball until Sue Nelson plays. As Sue has requested to be a drop-in entertainer only, we want to make a list of residents to be called when Sue is playing at RosePointe.

Special Music Coming to RosePointe on May 15.

Gao Hong (born 1964 in Luoyang, Henan) is a composer and performer of the Chinese pipa (pear -shaped lute). She serves as Professor of Chinese Musical Instruments at Carleton College.

She is the recipient of multiple music awards and has been honored by Saint Paul, Mayor Melvin Carter who declared April 3, 2022, to be "Gao Hong Day".

Gao has lived in the United States since 1994. She performs traditional and modern Chinese music, with her groups Spirit of Nature and Beijing Trio. She has also participated in cross-cultural musical collaborations, performing with a variety of musicians, and musicians including James Newton. Issam Rafea and Shubhendra Rao.

"THE SONGS WE GREW UP WITH, FELL IN LOVE TO AND STILL LISTEN TO TODAY"

Coming to RosePointe on May 22, Fred Montana is a cover solo artist who specializes in The Great American Song Book, the music made famous by Frank Sinatra, Tony Bennett, Nat King Cole, Barry Manilow, and Neal Diamond and renewed by contemporary celebrities Rod Stewart and Michael Bublé. He expands his repertoire with a little bit of country, R&B, and 70s singer/songwriter favorites.
